

The Cottage Garden Society

Are you interested in plants, do you enjoy exchanging gardening ideas and experiences with fellow gardeners? Then The Cottage Garden Society could be perfect for you. You don't need to live in a country cottage to be a cottage gardener! Anyone can create the natural style and informality of a cottage garden, be it in an urban or a rural setting.

Formed in 1982, the CGS is a friendly and informal society. It encourages gardening in a relaxed way, where flowers, vegetables, fruit and herbs are all grown together, combining beautiful scents and colours with practical production and also providing a haven for birds, butterflies and other wildlife.

Our modest annual subscription of £12.00 (or £15.00 joint membership) includes:

- The Cottage Gardener our 52 page quarterly magazine with articles, letters, book reviews, ideas and recipes. Also available on audio tape.
- Over 35 regional groups, organising local garden and nursery visits, talks, plant sales and meetings.
- Annual seed distribution: a chance to obtain seed donated by members.
- Annual booklet listing members' gardens to visit and village open days.

- Visit or help at our stands at the national shows and our annual plant sale.

Our publications:
